

Coach Ike Riley Sr. — Tribute Page Content

"If I can help one young man stay out of trouble or come out of trouble and come to Christ through sports, all the sacrifice is worth it." — Coach Ike Riley Sr.

Page Vision

This page should feel like a living museum / tribute — not a standard bio. Think photo-rich, timeline-driven, emotionally powerful. Every section should honor Coach's legacy while inspiring visitors to carry it forward.

Design direction: Dark, reverent background with gold accents. Large photos. Timeline markers. Pull quotes between sections.

Section 1: The Man Behind the Name

Ike Riley Sr. — known to everyone simply as "Coach" — was raised in a single-parent home on the South Side of Chicago. Raised by his mother and grandmother alongside six siblings, he grew up in poverty without a male role model in his life.

As a young man, Ike didn't know anything about a God who loved him. He had no desire to attend church. He hustled and made money, never thinking about getting a traditional job. He completed high school but did not attend college.

But God had a plan for Coach.

Section 2: The Turning Point — Finding Faith (1996)

God was already working on Ike Sr. before his mother passed. After her passing, Ike became withdrawn and quiet. His wife, Angela Riley, invited him to Liberty Temple Full Gospel Church in Chicago, under the leadership of Chief Apostle Dr. Clifford E. Turner.

A few months later, Ike Sr. accepted Jesus as Lord and Savior — 1996.

Within years, he was ordained as a Deacon, serving at Liberty Temple and helping lead the youth ministry titled "Boys to Men."

- 2012 — Ordained as an Elder at Liberty Temple
  - 2013 — Joined Family Christian Center, reuniting in worship with his wife and family
  - He continued coaching and mentoring with blessings from Leadership at Liberty Temple Full Gospel

Section 3: The Coach — 23 Years, Never Missed a Game (2002–2020)

Coach began leading the Liberty Warriors in 2002 at Liberty Temple Full Gospel Church. He coached and mentored until 2020, when he became ill.

23 years. Never missed a single game.

Coach entered the Liberty Warriors into tournaments and competitions through the Athletes For Christ Association (AFCA). The team's banner and prayer before every game: The Our Father Prayer — a prayer Angela taught Ike when they were just boyfriend and girlfriend. He believed every child, church member or not, should know it.

The Warriors won many games, tournaments, and championships — so many that the church had to create new space for the trophies. Starting with basketball, Coach expanded to recruit young men for Warrior baseball teams as well.

Section 4: Beyond the Court — A Life of Sacrifice

Coach never considered being a Deacon or a Coach a sacrifice. He served the church and the youth, thanking God every day for choosing him.

What Coach gave:

- Bought uniforms and equipment out of his own pocket
- Paid tournament fees and gym rentals himself
- Hosted barbecues for the team
- Gave young men small jobs so he could pay them instead of handing out money
- Hired team members at his own workplace when they needed jobs
- Attended graduations, trunk parties, birthdays, and family events for every player
- Got their school sports schedules and showed up to their games
- Took late-night phone calls from players and families in crisis
- Started his day at 4 AM during coaching seasons and ended as late as midnight driving teammates home

His coaching went beyond courts and fields. The young boys and teens became young adults. Coach continued mentoring them through college and into adulthood — always a phone call away, always praying with them, always directing them to Jesus.

And through all of this, God graced Coach to still spend time with his own boys (now men) in their sports endeavors.

Section 5: The Power of God — From Janitor to $4M Manager

After giving his life to Christ and becoming fully committed to God and the church, everything began to change.

Coach got a job at Sertoma, a nonprofit organization. He started as a janitor.

Then came promotion after promotion after promotion.

By the time his 37 years at Sertoma ended in 2020 due to illness, Coach Ike Riley Sr. was the Contract Janitorial Manager — having grown a department from $16,000/month to over $4,000,000+/month.

God blessed and prospered every good thing Coach put his hands to do.

Section 6: Reconciliation — A Father's Love Restored

Ike Sr. always wanted a relationship with his earthly father. During the last twelve years of his life, he finally had a genuine relationship with his biological father — a connection that filled Coach's heart with happiness.

He forgave his dad for all the years missed. He forgave the refusal to publicly acknowledge him as a son.

God is Excellent.

Section 7: Continuing the Legacy

"What would be something very encouraging to know about Coach that would help others to know anything is possible when you put God first?"

A man raised in poverty. No male role model. No knowledge of God. No college degree. No desire for church.

Yet through faith: 23 years of coaching. Hundreds of young men mentored. A janitor who built a $4M department. A father reconciled. A legacy that will never quit.
